

Julie Lapham Hunt, Executive Assistant/Project Manager Support Services and Professional Meetings

Originally from Vermont, Julie graduate from Castleton State College of Vermont in 2003 with a degree in Corporate Communications. After college, Julie used the skills she gained as a student leader on Castleton's campus as Associate Registrar at the New England Institute of Art in Brookline, Massachusetts. She worked closely with students and faculty who have amazing talents in the technical arts; a very rewarding experience.

In 2007, Julie accepted a position at The U.S. Department of Education's Higher Education Center for Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse and Violence Prevention, housed at Education Development Center. As a sub-contractor of the U.S. Department of Education, the staff works collaboratively with colleges and universities from across the United States to address alcohol, other drug and violence problems on their campuses. There, Julie worked with staff on a variety of needs based on the goals set by the Department of Education. Specifically, she focused her attention on the logistics of in-person and online trainings and workshops.

Now, as Executive Assistant at CORRONA, Inc; Julie is supporting the Executive team with various tasks that will help the team to continue the goals of CORRONA's work.

Julie is an avid sports fan supporting the various major league and college teams in the northeast. She also enjoys going to concerts, playing tennis, learning to play golf, and spending time with friends and family.
